

CV Vitae et Studiorum

Luca Salvati, M.Sc. Biology and Ecology (2000, University Roma Tre), B.A. Statistics and Demography (2004, Sapienza University of Rome), M.Sc. Statistics and Economics (2007, Sapienza University of Rome), PhD in Economic Geography (2011) at the Faculty of Economics of the same university, is a researcher (Class B, holding a full professor habilitation in Economic Statistics) at the Department of Economics and Law of the University of Macerata, Italy.

Since 2001 (up to 2006) he has been contract researcher at the Central Office for Crop Ecology (UCEA) of the Italian Ministry of Agriculture in Rome. Between 2006 and 2010 he was permanent researcher at the National Institute of Statistics (ISTAT), Service of Environmental Statistics. Between 2010 and 2020 he was staff research at the Italian National Council of Agricultural Research and Economics (CREA). He also had collaborations with public research bodies such as the Italian National Research Council (CNR) and the Higher Institute for Environmental Protection and Research (ISPRA) and various universities both in Italy (University of Roma Tre, Sapienza University of Rome, Roma Tor Vergata University) and abroad.

He has carried out continuous research periods abroad (2012-2014) at various public universities and research institutions in France (INRA Toulouse), Spain (Autonomous University of Barcelona, University of Valencia) and Greece (Panteion University of Athens, Harokopio University of Athens, Agricultural University of Athens, University of Piraeus, Aegean University). He is an expert in the topics of official statistics, spatial statistics, Geographic Information Systems, Sustainability and Resilience science, Applied Economics, urban-rural sociology, Geography, Remote sensing applied to socioeconomic and environmental issues. He has carried out studies on topics of economic statistics, urban economics, regional demography and sustainable development. He is adjunct scientist at CzechGlobe (Brno, Czechia).

He has held courses in Economic Statistics (University of Rome Tor Vergata), Basic Mathematics (University of Rome La Sapienza), Multivariate Statistics (University of Roma Tre), Regional Economics (University of Camerino, University of Eastern Piedmont), Strategic Evaluation of environmental impact (University of Roma Tre). He is a member of the teaching staff of the doctorate of "Models for economics and finance", curriculum of Economic Statistics (University of Rome 'La Sapienza'). He has supervised master's and doctoral theses, both in Italian universities and abroad (France, Greece, Spain). He has published more than 30 full books in English.

Scientific publication list on Scopus: <https://www.scopus.com/authid/detail.uri?authorId=57210686067> (487 entries, H-index: 54; total citations: 8478)

Editor in chief Geography, MPDI

Subject Editor, Land (MDPI), Sustainability (MDPI), Challenges (MDPI), Economies (MDPI); all journals with IF and Scopus indexing

Subject Editor, iForest-Biogeosciences (SISEF), Q2 with IF and Scopus Indexing

Subject Editor, Annals of Silvicultural Research (CREA), Q2 with Scopus indexing

Editorial board, Journal of Urban and Regional Analysis (JURA), Anthropocene (Springer), Soil, Water and Air (Springer Open Access).

More than 500 reviews for more than 30 top-level journals with Elsevier, Routledge, Springer, Sage (e.g. Land Use Policy, Ecological Indicators, Ecological Economics, Cities, Landscape & Urban Planning, Scientific Report).

Rome, 4 May 2021