

The dynamics between identity and differences

Converging Selves

ANDREW ARIM

Artist in Residence at the "G. Leopardi" School of Advanced Studies, University of Macerata

Andrew Arim
oil on canvas

"The dynamics between identity and differences. Converging selves" is a participatory art project exploring identity, difference, and the boundaries that shape human experience. Through dialogue and storytelling, participants will contribute to a shared creative process that transforms separation into connection.

Programme

April 1, 6:00 pm

Student Residence | Viale Indipendenza, 10

Introductory Talk

Presentation of the artist Arim Andrew, his artistic practice and the project.

April 15, 2:00 pm

Atelier, University venue | Via Garibaldi 20

Kick-off meeting

Official opening of the residency with the Director of the School, Carla Danani. Introduction to the workshop process and first collective activities.

scuolastudisuperiori.unimc.it

April 22, 6:00 pm

Atelier, University venue | Via Garibaldi 20

Workshop Session

Development of concepts, visual research and collective exploration.

Further meetings will be scheduled in collaboration with the artist during the residency.

All sessions are open and free and will be held in English. Participants are welcome to join any meeting independently, regardless of previous attendance.

Within the framework of the Project "Educating Future Citizens" funded by Ministerial Decree 291/2024 - National Recovery and Resilience Plan (PNRR), Mission 4 Education and Research, Component 1, Investment 3.4 'Advanced University Teaching and Skills'

RESIDENZA D'ARTISTA

/ Artist in Residence
/ Writer in Residence

